

CELEBRATE Women's History

Elizabeth Cady Stanton

(1815 – 1902)

Elizabeth Cady Stanton was an American social activist, abolitionist and leading figure in the early women's rights movement. Her Declaration of Sentiments, presented at the first women's rights convention held in 1848 in Seneca Falls, New York, is often credited with initiating the first organized women's rights and women's suffrage movements in the United States.
